

Boarding Release and Requirements

Thank you for giving us the honor of caring for your other family member! We will make sure he/she feels loved and like he/she is having a slumber party with friends! Home-away-from-home! Enjoy your trip and know your pet, our guest, is in the best of hands.

As the pet parent of my pet, I give Pampered Paws Animal Hospital (PPAH) permission to provide the necessary treatment to properly care for my pet during his/her stay. Should injury or circumstance warrant the need for medical care, PPAH will attempt to reach the below contact in the event of an emergency, but will proceed with the necessary treatment to care for my pet. I understand I will incur the cost of any medical attention provided for my pet. Initial_____

For minor issues such as diarrhea requiring medication, would you like to be contacted? yes/no
If yes, via email or phone?_____

All guests are required to be up-to-date on examination, vaccinations, fecal exam, and heartworm preventative (dogs). We make every effort to keep PPAH a flea-free environment. Any guest with fleas will receive a Capstar and whichever flea preventative our veterinarian deems most appropriate, which will be applied at the pet parent's expense. Initials_____

I understand that my dogs are significantly different sizes, but I would still like them to Board and/or Play together.( circle all that apply) Initials _____

Belongings may be lost, soiled, or damaged, so we recommend our toys and blankets/ towels instead! All guests get a blanket or towel and have access to toys unless he/she is destructive and has the potential to cause bodily harm by ingesting pieces. Pampered Paws does not recommend rawhides or bones of any kind. If bones are brought for a guest they will not be given. If personal belongings are soiled, there is a $3.00 laundry fee every time items are washed. Please check one or the other below:

My pet can have toys and a towel or blanket.

No toys, towels, or blankets for my pet.
